About World Transfer Pricing

Produced in association with the International Tax Review, World Transfer Pricing provides rankings and editorial coverage of the most effective transfer pricing practitioners in the world, covering more than 50 jurisdictions located on every continent.

Each edition rates the tax expertise offered in various markets, giving transfer pricing executives the most comprehensive information about the market for advice.

World Transfer Pricing Methodology

Our research is entirely free and independent and no firm or professional can pay to be included. The rankings are based on three key criteria:

- Work evidence: We ask all firms to provide deal and case highlights from their last 12 months of work.
- Peer feedback: We conduct a practitioner survey of transfer pricing professionals to get their thoughts and feedback on our existing rankings. All active transfer pricing professionals are invited to take part and we also speak to a great number of professionals through phone and face-to-face interviews. Professionals cannot recommend their own firm or colleagues in their own firm.
- Client feedback: We speak to a wide range of corporate and in-house contacts as part of our Client Feedback Survey to get their opinions on the firms and professionals they use. We ask for feedback on the following attributes: Technical ability, Accessibility and communication, Depth of team, Value for money, Client/lawyer relationship and International network.
